

VIVO Announcement

April 2nd 2018

Welcome to the first update since the community development team were announced!

We have been very busy working in the background on core improvements & stability solutions for our network of master nodes along with the roadmap items!

During March we decided to run a quick logo design competition, congratulations to @jnocua for your winning entry

Q1 Achievements:

- Crypto-Bridge exchange 100% - Buying or selling? get your orders in, the more volume on Crypto-Bridge the less the community must rely on other problematic exchanges!
- Website update – not only updating the website but an entire new domain! That's right! Vivocoin.net is now live! Over Q2 we will be working on amending all links to the new domain and finishing off some of the finer aesthetic details. We are aware it still needs improvement! On the new site you will find the addition of FAQ's and new guides!

- An added bonus, one of our community members has written a VIVO QT wallet plugin for unity 3D! While the final version is not yet available there is a working alpha currently being tested and implemented into a game! Stay tuned for more!

Work has begun on Q2 items:

- We are currently in the research and planning stage for the community development fund/foundation.
- The MN easy setup solution for all platforms is currently underway and various methods are currently being tested to ensure the most stable and user friendly solution is released. We assessed the number of MN setup related support queries and increased the level of urgency to complete this. We are aiming to have final testing and implementation complete as early as possible in Q2.

- Exchanges; Community has still been having issues with a certain exchange. In case you missed the announcement, Crypto-Bridge is now live! We also have applications in with additional exchanges and will provide further announcements in due time.
- Mining pool; with altminer.com ceasing service there have been a large number of people searching for the next best mining pool. If you are mining in a good pool, please feel free to share with the rest of the community in the VIVO discord channel #mining

If anyone in the community is capable and interested in helping further develop VIVO, we'd love to hear from you!

A HUGE shout out and THANK YOU to every single one of the community members who have been and continue to contribute and support VIVO and the entire VIVO community!

We love to hear your feedback, the best place to reach the community dev team is on the VIVO Hodlers discord channel where you can make suggestions, participate in development discussions, get technical help and assist other community members!
